SMITH-NEWBY. Last evening at 8 o'clock the English Lutheran Church was filled with relatives and friends to witness the marriage of Miss Nellie M. Newby, daughter c Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Newby, and Mr. F. rian O. Smith. The pulpit was decorated with palms and flowers and an orchestra played varied selections till the arrival of the bridal party, when it sounded the first notes of Mendelssohn's wedding march. The ushers were Messrs. David Leck, P. C. Smith, Wallace Holland and Otto Wrentch. They preceded the bridal party, which included four bridesmalds, Miss Nellie Smith, Miss Ida Elennottz, Miss Violet Wyon and Miss Carrie Busking. They white rose in her hair and carried dainty handkerchiefs in place of the conventional bouquets. Then came four groomsmen, Mr. Frederick Biedenmeister, Dr. Harry Conklin, Mr. William Bowman and Mr. William Spink. The flower girls were little Minnie Springer and Stella Wyon. They wore white organdie gowns and carried baskets of flowers. It was their part to untie the white satin ribbons at the head of the aisle for the party to pass through. Miss Lida Newby, the bride's sister, was the maid of honor and wore a pink silk gown trimmed with pearls. The bride wore a handsome gown of white faille francaise, en train, trimmed with rich cream lace and ribbons. Her jewels were diamonds and her bouquet was Bride roses. A veil enveloped her. The groom's best man was Mr. Harlan Ratliff. The party formed in a semi-circle and ex-Governor Ira J. Chase pronounced the marriage service. To the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march the bride and groom and party left the church and went to the home of the bride's parents on North New Jersey street, where a large reception was held. The house was adorned with roses, carnations and palms. The reception hours were from 8:30 to 19 The bridal party was assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Newby, the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. M. Smith, the groom's parents, and Mr. Allen F. Smith.

CORBALEY-CONSTANTINE. The marriage of Miss Jolliette Constantine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Constantine, and Mr. George M. Corbaley occurred last evening at the College-avenue Baptist Church in the presence of a large assemblage of friends. The ceremony was pronounced by Rev. J. F. Williams, pastor of the church. The bridal party was composed of Mr. Edwin Wilmington and Mr. Rutherford Constantine, the ushers, followed by Miss Theresa Constantine, sister of the bride, as maid of honor and Mr. Sherman Lindsay, of Tipton, as best man, and then came the bride and groom. At the pulpit they were met by Mr. Williams, The bride wore a pretty gown of lavender satin trimmed with chiffon and lace and pearl passementerie. She carried a bouquet of white roses, carnations and maiden hair fern. The bridesmaid's gown was of white organdle and lace and she carried a bunch of La France roses. Miss Nellie G. Covert, organist of the church, played the Lohen-grin wedding march as the party entered and the Mendelssohn march as they left the church. After the ceremony a reception was given at the home of the bride on Newman street. The floral decorations of the house were roses of all colors, Mr. and Mrs. Corbaley left last night for Chicago, where they will visit for a fortnight, and upon their return they will reside on North New Jersey street. The Western League Meeting. According to the constitution of the Western League, the annual meeting must be held in the city whose club wins the pennant. The heads of the several teams, however, favor Chicago as the point of meeting, and the change will probably be made. President Golt has received word from four clubs that they will vote with him for the change. Milwaukee and Minneapolis have not yet responded, but will probably fall into line to-day. The meeting takes place next Wednesday, and if held in Chicago Messrs. Golt and Brush will attend. If Sloux City is the meeting place, Indianapolis is likely to be without a representative, for nobody can spare the time to go that far. This gathering of the Western League people is expected to be an all important one, as a change in the circuit is contemplated.

Manager Sharsig and "Billy" Gray left for Philadelphia yesterday afternoon, Hen-ry is about the only Indianapolis player left here, and he will remain several days. Pitcher Kennedy to Be Punished. PITTSBURG, Sept. 26.-Pitcher Kennedy, of the Brooklyn club, who assaulted Umpire Betts in yesterday's game at Exposition Park, will have to answer for his conduct. Officials of the Pittsburg club say that they will prefer charges against the young man, and, further, that they will do all in their power to have the man

PARKHURST TO WOMEN.

Mothers Warned that Their Boys Are Periled by Tammany's Depravity.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.-Dr. Parkhurst carried his crusade against vice into the annexed district last night. The Doctor had never been north of the Harlem river before, although a branch of the City Vigilance League has been doing efficient work there for the past two years. Last night a rousing meeting of the league was held in Bethany Presbyterian Church, One-hundred-and-thirty-seventh street, near Willis avenue, and, of course, Dr. Parkhurst was the principal orator. When Dr. Parkhurst stepped to the front of the platform he was heartily applauded. He said that he was not going to make a speech; merely a talk. Referring to Tammany, he said: "There are good men in this despicable organization, but only a few of them. Many are admirable men, and when I see them I feel glad that the organization is not wholly composed of thieves. But it is to the women I am going to talk to-night," continued the Doctor. He said he knew the women were interested in the work of the women were interested in the work of the league, although it was not until recently that he had heard from them. He said the women could do almost as much as the men to bring about the desired reform by using their persuasive powers. He asked them to look to their sons and use their influence to induce such of them as are wayward to steer clear of contaminating associations. He said that mothers hardly appreciated the depraying influence that is being brought to bear upon their boys because of the municipal deprayity. After urging the women to join hand in hand in the work of the league the Doctor said the outlook for a victory for his society this fall was brighter than ever before, but the man for Mayor must be a person who would do his duty.

ALIVE AND WELL DESPITE THE DECLARATION OF THE COURTS.

The California Capitalist Found by Spiritualist Slater, Aided by the Shade of the Doctor's Farst Wile.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.-Dr. Thomas E. Tynan, the physician and capitalist whom the courts have declared to be dead, and whose $200,000 estate has been distributed among his relatives, arrived in San Francisco this morning. He was met at the Oakland ferry by a number of friends and business associates. Though pale and slightly emaciated, the aged gentleman appeared in fair health. He said he had been in Boston all the time since his strange disappearance, and that the reason for his sudden leaving over two years ago was to avoid the annoyance of livigation begun by his step-daughters to recover property which they alleged belonged to them. The old man said he would probably have never returned had not the spiritualist Slater discovered him in Boston and brought him to Reno. Slater, who claims to have been guided by spirits, claims the $5,000 reward offered by Mrs. Tynan for information of her husby Mrs. Tynan for information of her husband's whereabouts. Stater ascribes the finding to the spirit form of Dr. Tynan's first wife. He says: "On May 28 I was writing a letter in my room at the Clarendon Hotel in Boston. It was about 7:30 o'clock. Suddenly a woman's form stood over me, distinctly as could be. 'I am Rose Marvin Tynan,' it said. 'Go to No. — street to-night and you will see my husband, Dr. Thomas T. Tynan.' I went immediately. The number given was that of mediately. The number given was that of a well-known boarding house in a central location and not more than twenty min-utes' walk from my hotel. The street and number I have promised not to reveal. When I rang the bell I asked for Dr. Tynan. They told me he was not there, but while I was talking he came to the top of the stairs and spoke to me. I re-turned soon after to California. I saw Mrs. Tynan, but she would not believe I had seen the Doctor. She believes it now. Early in August I went back and found the Doctor again and we came back to-gether." Slater has the promise of $5,000 and expenses.

AMUSEMENTS.

Willie Collier as Ben and Ike. Willie Collier held an impromptu reception in his dressing room at the Grand last night, and gave some Indianapolis admirers of his inborn genius as a comedian an insight into how he manages his "changes" from Ben to Ike in "A Back Number." The complete loss of the schoolmaster in the tough but magnetic brother Ike, and vice versa, become more marvelous with each performance. It requires just eighty seconds for the schoolmaster to peel off his almost ministerial garb to the skin and don the accoutrements of the happy-golucky Ike, who, by the way, has such a heroic nature and brigh intellect that he entirely eclipsed his steady-going brother Ben in the appreciation of the audience. No other comedian who can now be called to mind has the double gift that would enable him to do the work that Collier is doing. Sol Smith Russell might handle the schoolmaster part better, but he would be up a tree in the clothes of the jovial, laugh-provoking Ike. Those who falled to see Collier's new play have missed a distinctive treat. The company, for the first time since it went on the road, four weeks ago, failed to do the business here that "Hoss an' Hoss" always did. Indianapolis is a queer city when it comes to going to see anything new on the stage. The stamp of the entire country's approval, seemingly has to be given a piece before the people turn out in Indianapolis, and by reason of this many a rare and toothsome theatrical morsel, such as "A Back Number" undoubtedly is, falls to tickle the dramatic palate here until other people have digested the production. Collier will finish out the week at Dickson & Talbott's new theater in Columbus, O., and then assault finicky Chicago at Hamlin's Grand Opera House. Park-Grenier's Vaudevilles.

The Park Theater has a change of attractions this afternoon, when Grenier's Chicago Lyceum Specialty Company opens for the rest of the week. It is said to be one of the few vaudeville shows on the road with no objectionable features among its dozen specialty acts. The company has been doing a big business since it started out at Cincinnati, Dayton and elsewhere. The list of people comprising the company contains a number of good performers. They are Lizzie and Vinie Daly, the dancing wonders; Crimmins and Gore, in their original act, "What Are the Wild Waves Saying?" the Baroni Brothers, disappearing demons; Lillie Larkelle, advertised as America's "handsomest singing soubrette: the three Rackett Brothers, the musica! harvesters; Willis Clark, formerly of Emerson, Clark and Daly Brothers, and known as "Lord Knickerbocker Hobo;" John W. World, the famous grotesque mimic singer and dancer; Tillie Morrisey, operatic and ballad vocalist; Frank Apple, somersault wire artist; Charles A. Newton, the character comedian; the four "Oddities," in a funny act, and John Morrissey, comedian. The performance is spoken of as clean, efined and first-class. One of the clever features is little Vinie Daly, the wonder-ful child dancer. She is but nine years old, and a great favorite with the ladies and children. She holds an informal reception for them after every matinee, at which time she would like to meet all who care to talk to her. The engagement is for this afternoon, tonight and the rest of the week. Notes of the Stage. Russell's Comedians will be at the Grand next Monday for three nights and a matinee in their new piece. "The Lost Paradise," with William Mor-ris, Etta Hawkins and a strong company, comes to English's the last half of next S. C. Ricaby, in advance of 'Little Trixie," is here arranging for his company's appearance, the first half of next week, at Frederick and Jean Reynolds will appear at the Empire next week in the great melodrama, "The Australian," and the new comedy drama, "Man and Wife." The Empire Theater people believe this will come near being the "banner" week of the season. Overflowing houses have

always a good attraction here, and better

nery and costumes are elaborate.

OF FISHERMEN

EIGHT DAYS AT SEA IN AN OPEN BOAT WITHOUT FOOD OR WATER.

Saw Four Record-Breaking Steam ers, but the Latter Would Not Heed the Signals of Distress.

HALIFAX, Sept. 26.-One hundred and ninety-two hours in an open dory on the Atlantic without food or water was the meat of a terrible story of suffering told by Allan Ange and Botiel Marc yesterday. dred miles from St. Johns. The fishermen knew they must be in the track of ocean vicinity as well as possible. They slept was hung over the stern to keep the sea cleared away on Aug. 29 and not a sail could be seen on the vast sweep of water until about dusk on the 31st. A large cried lustily for help. They shouted, waved their hands and raised their oars. They could see people on the steamer looking over the rail at them. The big boat kept on its way and no notice was paid to the signals of distress from the dory. On the 3d of September another west-bound steamthird boat with the same style funnel went by in the afternoon and a fourth in the night of the same day. Ange says all four vessels saw their signals for help and ignored them. A bark passed the castaways in the dory on the morning of Sept. 4 in easy range of them. but took no notice.

Up to the 4th instant hunger had not assailed them. They had vitality enough to withstand the privation of food for a more extended period if necessary, but thirst began to assume the mastery. Marc lost control of himself. He dished up salt water in a fog horn and drank that. Again and again he drank. Ange endeavored to dissuade him, but he says his friend turned on him like a snarling dog. The salt water made Marc delirious. He waved his arms and sang and laughed demoniacally. Several times he tried to jump overboard, but Ange restrained him. Marc finally grew comatose and reposed in the bottom grew comatose and reposed in the bottom of the dory. Ange was himself so far gone at this time that he does not know what prevented him from following the action of Marc and drinking salt water. On Sept. 5 both men were light-headed and suffering terribly. It was in that condition that the steamer Germond rescued them in the

Cyclist Wylie Robbed While Asleep. CLEVELAND, Sept. 26.—Cyclist H. H. Wylie, of Chicago, who is trying to reduce the record from New York to Chicago made by Searles last week, arrived in this city at 8:30 a. m. to-day, his schedule time. After a rub-down he started on his journey west at 9:35 o'clock. He has two days and two hours yet in which to reach Chicago Wylle was robbed of his watch and a smal amount of money while sleeping in a fence corner at Northwest, where he took two and Conservative Surgeons of to-day to cure many diseases without cutting, which were formerly regarded as incurable without resort to the knife.

RUPTURE or Breach, is now radically cured without pain. Clumsy Trueses can be thrown away! TUMORS, Ovarian, Fi-broid (Uterine) and many others, are now removed without the perils of cut-

SAULT STE. MARIE, Sept. 26.-Particulars given by those who witnessed the col-lision between the steamer Ohio and schooner Ironton on Lake Huron, early this morning, are conflicting. Captain Hunt and the crew of the schooner Moonlight, who picked up the crew of the Ohio, have signed a statement charging the captain of the steamer Kershaw, which was towing the Ironton and the Moonlight, with gross neglect in refusing to lower a boat to rescue the Ohlo's crew and with refusing to stand by the wreckage until daylight. Captain Connor, of the Kershaw, and his crew contradict this statement, and say they picked up the Ohio's crew half an hour after the wreck and rescued the Ohio's mate two hours later. Five of the Ironton's crew have undoubtedly perished, the other two having been picked up by the steamer Hebard.
